

Saturday Festival Workshop

Walk and Talk Timetable

11.30 – 12.00——Talk	The Cheapside Hoard: .... (Platform)
11.30 – 12.45——Debate	The Great Debate: Computer Aided Design and Manufacture v. Traditional Methods (Langdales Jewellery Centre)
12.00 – 13.00——Workshop	Beading: Simple jewellery techniques ( women only ) (Holts Academy of Jewellery)
12.30 – 13.15——Walk	Historical Hatton Garden (meet outside Platform)
13.00 – 14.00——Talk	Contemporary Jewellery: Innovation, fashion and trends in the contemporary jewellery market (Langdales Jewellery Centre)
13.00 – 18.00——Drop-in workshop	Computer Aided Design: try your hand at designing jewellery using contemporary technologies (Holts Lapidary)
14.00 – 14.30——Talk	The Cheapside Hoard: .... (Platform)
14.00 – 15.00——Workshop	Hands on Jewellery Making for the Next Generation: A chance for young people to explore creativity at the jewellery benches Ages (Holts Academy of Jewellery)
14.30 – 15.15——Walk	Historical Hatton Garden (meet outside Platform).
15.00 – 16.00——Workshop	Hands on Diamonds: Discover the beauty and value of diamonds (Holts Academy of Jewellery)
16.00 – 16.45——Walk	Historical Hatton Garden (meet outside Platform)
16.00 – 17.00——Workshop	Hands on Jewellery Making: Bench based jewellery making for beginners (Holts Academy of Jewellery)
16.30 – 17.15——Talk	The Cheapside Hoard: ... (Platform)

Saturday Facilities

Information Point – at the Hatton Garden / Greville Street cross-road
Toilets, Lost kids', First Aid - Arundel House, Kirby St (Saturday only)

Disabled access has been indicated where appropriate;
some of the older buildings in Hatton Garden do not have disabled access.

Thanks to: Fiona McKeith, Maria Spanou, Jacobs Jewellery Design,
Holts Academy, CAD Man, Jeraint Hazan, Amy Perkins, Caroline Townsend, Louise Breeewood, the Communications Group,
and all the jewelers of Hatton Garden.

Hatton Garden Festival 11th–13th June 2009

part of Coutts London Jewellery Week

London
Jewellery
First

ChangeActShare

HIDDEN CITIES

University of the Arts London
Central
Saint Martin's

COUTTS
LONDON
JEWELLERY WEEK

Hatton Garden

Hatton Garden is at the heart of London's jewellery industry. Behind the sparkling diamond window displays there are over 500 jewellery related businesses, including some of the country's most celebrated contemporary jewelers, a host of young designer-makers, and many of the industry's most skilled manufacturers.

Hatton Garden is playing a key role in Coutts London Jewellery Week 2009 with the introduction of the Hatton Garden Trail and Festival. Designers, retailers and specialist craftsmen in Hatton Garden are opening their doors to the public, often for the first time, offering the rare opportunity to go behind the scenes of this exclusive industry.

Hatton Garden Trail

Thursday 11th June

11.00 – 19.30

Friday 12th June

11.00 – 18.00

Saturday 13th June

during Festival hours

Explore new collections, meet designers and manufacturers, and see behind the scenes at the specialist retailers and workshops listed overleaf.

Visit www.londonjewelleryweek.co.uk/ whats-on and follow the Hatton Garden links to play Urbanecr's fantastic Hatton Garden Game, with the chance to win a £1,000 piece of bespoke jewellery designed and made by Amanda Mansell and the Hatton Garden jewellers featured in For the Love of It, showing in Langdales Jewellery Centre.

Hatton Garden Festival

Saturday 13th June

11.30 – 18.00

For Saturday's Festival, Hatton Garden's jewellers will be coming outdoors and the street will be alive with activity between Holborn and St. Cross Street. Watch hand-crafting in the open air, attend one of the many workshops, walks or talks to learn more about this fascinating industry, or simply enjoy the atmosphere at the fine food market, accompanied by musicians, and costumed actors.

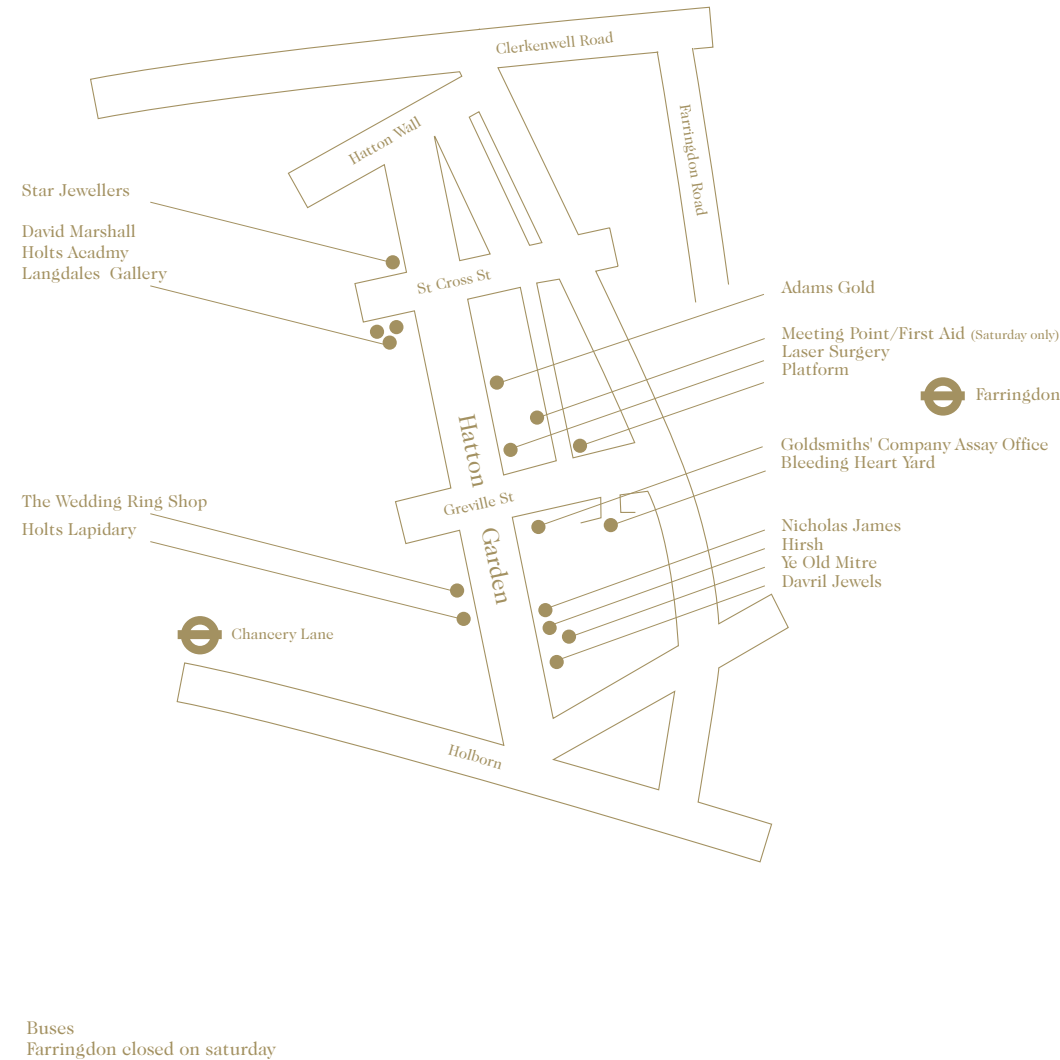

In the Manufacturing Tent, curated by Jacobs Jewellery Design, gemmologists, mounters, setters, polishers and engravers from Hatton Garden businesses will be working together to create a series of rings before your eyes, with the chance to win one of the finished pieces.

Contrast the ancient with the contemporary at Platform, where items from The Cheapside Hoard, the Museum of London's priceless collection of Tudor jewellery, will be on display alongside stunning pieces from Hatton Garden designers.

Attend one of the fascinating workshops and talks offered by Holts Academy of Jewellery and partners, or visit the Assay Office tent to receive expert insights and a verbal valuation for the jewellery you are wearing.

Meanwhile the fine food market will offer oysters and champagne, jewel-like cup cakes, and other delights and delicacies to get you in a sparkling mood!

And don't forget that the Hatton Garden Trail is open throughout the day...

Festival Trail

Platform, 29-31 Greville St – Exhibition /Retailer
A spectacular exhibition of designs by Hatton Garden jewellers at the brand new showcase space for cutting edge contemporary jewellery design. On Saturday Platform is also hosting selected pieces from The Cheapside Hoard, an extraordinary treasure trove of Tudor jewellery on loan from the Museum of London.
Disabled Access

Laser Surgery of Jewellery, 1st Floor, 25 Hatton Garden – Manufacturer
Up-to-the-minute machines facilitate the most delicate repairs at this well-established Hatton Garden workshop; watch craftsmen use a combination of traditional skills and the latest technologies to repair any piece of jewellery.
No Disabled Access

Adams Gold, Rear Basement, 34-35 Hatton Garden – Manufacturer
A rare chance to see a traditional Hatton Garden casting workshop; Adam's Gold mass-produce gold, silver and platinum pieces which are then hand-finished and sold to trade partners, in their basement factory.
No Disabled Access

Star Jewellers, 70 Hatton Garden – Retailer
The biggest collection of Christian Bauer wedding rings in the UK is on display at this relaxed, contemporary jewellers, where their in-house gemologist will also be on hand to share his comprehensive knowledge of stones.
Disabled Access

David Marshall, Langdales, 5 St. Cross St, Hatton Garden – Designer /Manufacturer
A chance to view the UK Luxury Jeweller of the Year's design and manufacture studio, and his extraordinary new collections in the intimate surroundings of his personal showroom.
Disabled Access

Holts Academy of Jewellery, Langdales, 5 St. Cross St – Education
The UK's only jewellery training provider; visit to look around on Thursday and Friday, or on Saturday attend one of the many hands-on taster workshops, talks and seminars.
Disabled Access

Langdales Jewellery Centre, 5 St. Cross Street – Film and Media Installations
Go behind the scenes of Hatton Garden through jewellery Designer Amanda Mansell's interactive sound installation, Jewel Harmonic and film, For the Love of It, and Patricia Carreira's film Behind The Doors
Disabled Access

The Wedding Ring Shop, 97 Hatton Garden – Retailer
Watch through the window as specialist craftsmen operate at a workbench in the shop, or wander in to have a closer look at the extensive range and ask questions.
Disabled Access

Holts Lapidary, 98 Hatton Garden – Retailer
The UK Jewellery Awards 2008 Retailer of the year are stone experts and stockists of one of the largest collections of gems and jewels in the country. From Thursday to Saturday they are hosting a wide variety of interactive events, including the Roque Collection in virtual reality. On Saturday visit to try your hand at jewellery design using computer aided design software. Details and information available in-store.
Disabled Access

Davril Jewels, 6 Hatton Garden – Retailer
A new range of princess cut and round brilliant cut diamond engagement rings and matching wedding bands, plus an extraordinary 'diamond zipper' are on show at this classical and individual prestige retailer, whose craftsmen will be in-store answering questions.
No Disabled Access

Ye Olde Mitre, 1 Ely Court – Pub
A magical small, dark and cosy Elizabethan ale house, originally built for the servants of the Bishop of Ely's nearby London home, which first opened its door to the public in 1546. On Saturday opening hours are 12.00 - 18.00.
Disabled Access

Hirsh, 9 Hatton Garden – Retailer
Hirsh are hosting Platinum Guild's window display for bridal jewellery and showing new engagement ring designs from their brilliant designers in-store, alongside their spectacular, often colourful designs.
Disabled Access.

Nicholas James, 16-18 Hatton Garden – Retailer
Modern, yet timeless diamonds and platinum in a mystical summer garden - Nicholas James' new summer collections, are shown in a magical setting, alongside the work of eight exceptional contemporary jewellery designers.
Disabled Access

The Goldsmiths' Company Assay Office, 17 Greville Street – Expertise
The Goldsmiths' Company are one of the jewellery industry's key points of reference. Assay Office London have been assaying and hallmarking precious metals since the 1300s. The Greville Street office has experts on hand and is offering a welcoming insight into the fascinating world of metals and hallmarking.
Disabled Access

The Bleeding Heart, Bleeding Heart Yard, off Greville Street – Restaurant
The atmospheric Yard, wrapped in Tudor mystery, and Dickensian mists, is home to the Restaurant, the Tavern, and the Bistro, which will be raffling a Swarovski studded magnum of champagne in a nod to jewellery week. Only the Bistro is open on Saturday.
Disabled Access